THE OTHER STUFF

Throughout the website, there are picture advertisements, or what are known as affiliate links. In essence, I list all services and the products for free, so these affiliate links are where I may possibly make money off this page. I am very selective in what I select to advertise on my page, so you can believe that I have either used, purchased, or heard of each of the companies that are advertised. On the main page, every single thing that's advertised throughout all the other pages is listed in some fashion, either by a picture link or in the ordered listing in the middle of the page. I will be adding more and more as I go along. Every single one of these is safe, and almost every single page offers items at a significant discount. Below is a listing of those brands, and what they are for those names that may not be as familiar:

1&1 Web Hosting - Web Hosting and Servers, a place where you can put your website if you have one

123 Inkjets - Printer accessories are what they're known for, such as replacing ink cartridges at drastically reduced prices, but they offer other computer accessories also

Anthony Robbins—The world's number one motivational speaker and presenter offers his products for big discounts

Alienware - Quality hand built computers, with very high quality components. They specialize in making computers for gamers

Barnes & Noble - Books, CDs, and very good cookies

Better Homes & Gardens - Not the magazine, but a store for items around the house and for your garden

Brian Tracy - One of the top motivational and sales trainers and speakers in the country. Not only has products, but one can learn about his live seminars from this site and book those as well

Brookstone - Quality and high priced gadget items

Brushstrokes - Different types of artwork, some originals but mainly copies

Carol Wright - Household accessory items for kitchen and living room

Club Furniture - High quality furniture for your household

Comfort Channel - Home, healthcare, and personal comfort items

Couture Candy - Fashionable clothing for younger women

Discovery Channel Store - Scientific items geared towards education and serenity

DKNY - A top name store that produces clothes, shoes, fragrances, and other accessories eHealth Insurance - For those who might need insurance, here's a place where you can shop for low cost coverage online

eVitamins - As the name says, you can purchase low cost vitamins and health items here

Ferret Store - This is more than a store for ferrets; it's a full service pet store of products for any animal

Firefox w/Google Toolbar - Firefox is an alternate and very popular alternative to Internet Explorer, and now it's added the Google Toolbar as an extra feature to help your searches go easier

Franklin Covey - Business products to help you plan your day, list your contacts, make daily notes, and organize your business and personal life

GoDaddy Hosting - This company's claim to fame is in purchasing domain (website names) at low prices, but they also offer many different web hosting packages

Hobbytron - Products are geared towards hobbies such as model cars, airplanes, motorized cars, robots, etc; great stuff for kids

Kodak - Who doesn't know Kodak? Cameras, film, and online picture services

Musician's Hut—This site sells musical instruments of all types

Network Subscriptions - This site offers subscriptions to magazines and newspapers of all sorts from all over the world at discount rates

Oscar de la Renta - What doesn't Oscar de la Renta sell? They offer shoes, accessories, eyewear, fragrances, handbags, and clothes

Palm Store - Handheld electronic organizers and software

Paypal - Want to sell products online and accept credit card payments? This is the number one online credit card processing company in the world, and they also offer products to help you retrieve payments of all sorts

Rich Jerk - This guy is considered one of the top internet marketers in the world. His online book sells between 3,000 and 5,000 copies a week, and he offers advice and assistance to those who will follow his plan to internet wealth

Rosetta Stone - This company gears itself to providing products to help you learn a new language

Sedona Method - This is an internationally recognized training company in all sorts of things such as stress relief, motivation, financial success, sales, etc.

Sony - Quality electronics, including computers, televisions, and musical items

Star Trek Store - What more needs to be said?

Swarovski Crystal - Top of the line crystal jewelry

The Secret - Ever hear of the Laws of Attraction? This motivational organization will help give you the keys to life and success through their products

uControl - Home security systems

WWE Shop - Okay, so I love wrestling; you know you do also zChocolat - Chocolate products of all types, this company was mentioned by Oprah as one of her favorite products
